Memphis in May Olympic Triathlon Celebrates Memphis's Bicentennial with Poster Unveiling

The Memphis in May Olympic Triathlon celebrates its 37th year with the 2019 triathlon limited-edition art poster unveiling on Monday, May 6, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at The Peddler Bike Shop, 3548 Walker Avenue. The public is invited to attend for a sneak-peek of this year's art poster and to celebrate Memphis's Bicentennial anniversary with refreshments including Flat Hat Ale, wine and munchies. Parking for The Peddler, a sponsor for this year's event, is located off Brister Street near The University of Memphis campus.

This year's poster artist is Richard Williams, who has designed 14 previous Memphis In May Olympic Triathlon posters.

The exhibit is presented by P.R. Event Management, producer of the annual triathlon event. P.R. Event Management produces fun and safe sports experiences that draw awareness, exposure and monetary support for the many charitable organizations with whom they partner.

"We are delighted to unveil the 37th annual Memphis in May Olympic Triathlon art poster and to celebrate the Bicentennial of our city with our community and area sports enthusiasts," said Pam Routh, MIM Triathlon race director and co-founder of P.R. Event Management.

Art posters for the Memphis in May Triathlon have been designed by seven Memphis graphic artists through the years and represent more than three-and-a-half decades of the global community saluted by Memphis in May since its inception in 1982. The Memphis in May Triathlon began in 1983.
